BEES AS WEATHER PROPHETS.—A new use may possibly be found for bees. Not only are they honey givers, but it appears that they may be recognized as weather harbingers, but how far ahead the bee may be able to look may be an open question. A nice observer by looking at them in the early morning during the working season will soon be able to form an opinion as to what the day will be and that almost to a certainty, for they will sometimes appear sluggish and inactive, although the morning is very bright and showing every appearance of a clear day, but the sun becomes clouded and rain follows.

And again the morning may be dull and cloudy and sometimes rain may be falling still the bees will be observed going out in considerable numbers, and as sure as this is seen the day becomes bright and fair.—Newcastle Chronicle

ADVERTISING.—It is the experience of every city without exception that the most prosperous business houses are those which advertise most and most intelligently, and the men who have achieved success in this way could not be induced to give it up under any circumstances. Of course a man cannot succeed by advertising alone. He must back it up by attention to business, by promptness in all his dealings, by consulting the tastes and interests of his customers, and by making good his promises; and as a rule it will be found that liberal and progressive advertisers do all of these things.

No WONDER.—From a bushel of corn a distiller gets four gallons of whiskey, which retails at $16. The Government gets $3.60, the farmer who raised the corn gets 40 cents, the railroad gets $1, the manufacturer gets $4, the retailer gets $7, and the consumer gets drunk. No wonder so many Kansas farmers are using corn as fuel.

MEDICINAL.

NEVER FAILS.
After suffering for three months with a troublesome eruption on my face and neck, and trying all sorts of remedies, I was finally cured by taking a few bottles of Swift's Specific. It increased my weight from 95 to 135 pounds.
A. W. Crook, Ottawa, Kansas.

RHEUMATISM ELIMINATED FROM THE BLOOD.
I am satisfied that S. S. S. is the best blood remedy in the world. I have used it for rheumatism with the best results.
L. L. Hoots, Sherman, Texas.

HAD CASE OF FROST BITE.
A patient under my charge was badly affected with blood poisoning, the result of frost bite in the feet. Both feet had sloughed off before he was turned over to me. He was cured sound with a few bottles of S. S. S., and is now walking about on his knees. — R. L. Wood, Millersville, Ga.
